Story

The Government of the United States

The government of the United States has three branches. They are the legislative, the executive, and the judicial. The legislative branch is the Congress. Congress makes the laws of our country. Congress is elected by the people. The President is in charge of the executive branch of our government. He has many people who help him. The President executes the laws that Congress makes. The judicial branch of our government is the Supreme Court. There are nine judges on the Supreme Court. One of the nine judges is in charge. He is the chief justice. The Supreme Court interprets the laws that Congress makes. That is, the Court decides what the law really says. The Supreme Court is the highest court in our country.

Historia

El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos

El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos tiene tres poderes. Ellos son el legislativo, el ejecutivo, y el judicial. El poder legislativo es el Congreso. El Congreso hace las leyes de nuestro país. El Congreso es elegido por la gente. El Presidente está a cargo del poder ejecutivo de nuestro gobierno. El tiene muchas personas que le ayudan. El Presidente ejecuta las leyes que el Congreso hace. El poder judicial de nuestro gobierno es la Corte Suprema. Hay nueve jueces en la Corte Suprema. Uno de los nueve jueces está a cargo. El es el jefe de justicia. La Corte Suprema interpreta las leyes que el Congreso hace. Es decir, que la Corte Suprema decide lo que la ley verdaderamente dice. La Corte Suprema es la corte más alta en nuestro país.
