

I'm Going to the Library

A Social Narrative about Visiting the Library

Note to Caregivers

The purpose of this document is to assist in preparing your loved one for a visit to the Civic Center Branch Library. By reading this short story before visiting the library, your loved one will gain a visual familiarity with the library's spaces, so they are able to feel more comfortable during their library visit.

Welcome to the Civic Center Branch Library.

We hope to see you soon!

Getting to the Library

I might walk, ride my bike, ride a car, bus, or train to get to the library.

This is the front of my library

It's time to go inside.

Everyone is always welcome here.

This is what I see as I enter the library

Some libraries have a lobby, others may not.

Are you ready to explore?

This is the Customer Service Desk at my library

This is where I can return my books as I enter the library and check them out as I am ready to go.

I can also return my books in the book drop if my library is busy.

If I can't find what I am looking for, I can always ask for help.

Materials for Children, Teens and Adults

This is where children, teens and adults can get books and other materials.

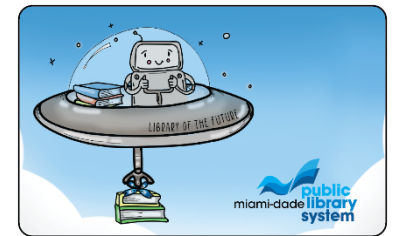

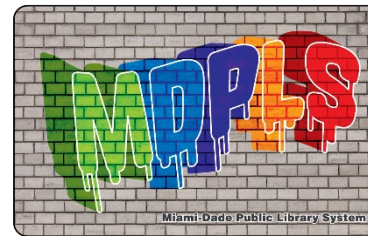

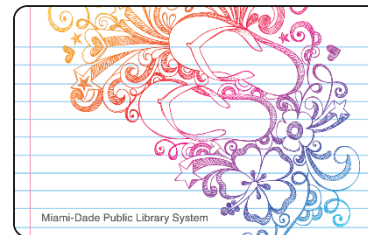

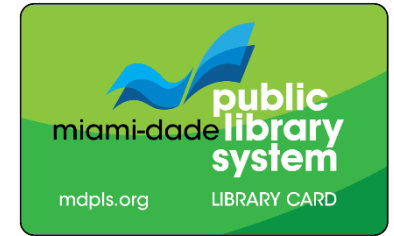

Getting My Library Card

If I don't have a library card, I will need one.

After I fill out a form with my information, the librarian will give me my card.

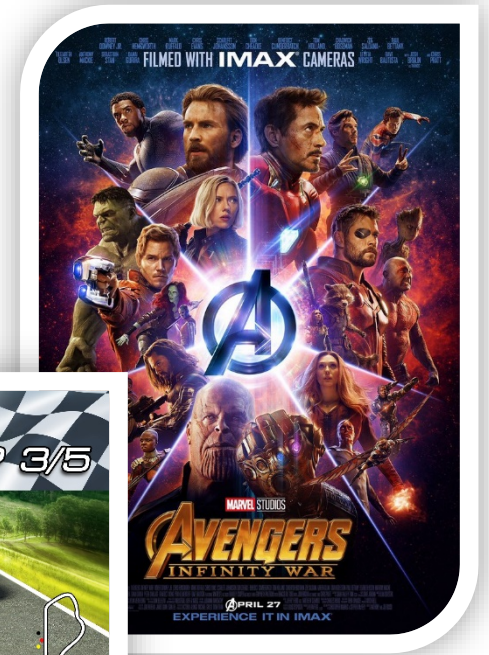

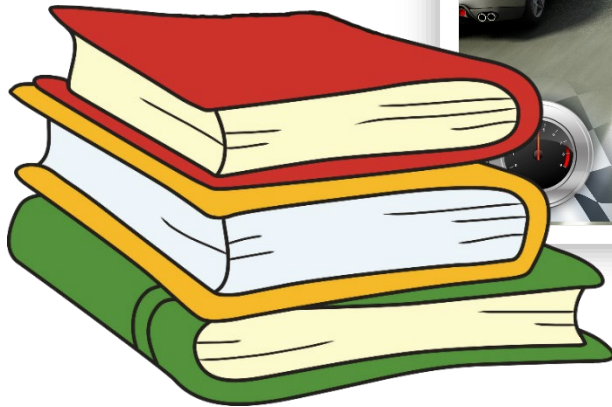

There are so many to pick from!

Which one do you like?

With My Library Card

I can check out books, movies, and even video games.

Goodbye!

My visit is over.

If I checked out books, I take them with me.

I place them in my bag or hold them in my hands.

I will be back soon!
