FEATURING THE FOLLOWING AUTHORS

In JENNIFER COBURN's gripping historical novel Cradles of the Reich, three women's fates are irrevocably intertwined. Based on untold historical events, this novel explores the World War II-era Lebensborn maternity homes where thousands of babies were taken from their mothers to be raised as part of the new Germany. This powerful and moving book shows that in a dark period of history, the connections women forge can drive them to immense heroism.

IMAN HARIRI-KIA is a writer and editor born and based in New York City. Her debut novel A Hundred Other Girls follows the ups and downs of Noora, an aspiring author who lands a dream job that fails to live up to expectations. Clever and fun, A Hundred Other Girls is an insider's take on the changing media industry, an ode to sisterhood, and a profound exploration of what it means to chase your dreams.

The bestselling author of The Two-Family House and The Wartime Sisters, LYNDA COHEN LOIGMAN returns with The Matchmaker's Gift, a heartwarming multigenerational story. Though Abby's career as a successful Manhattan divorce attorney seems very different from her grandmother's profession as a Lower East Side matchmaker, both women defy expectations to utilize their unique gift of seeing soulmates in the most unexpected places.

KRISTINA MCMORRIS New York Times bestselling author of Sold on a Monday, returns with a sweeping World War II tale of an illusionist whose recruitment by British intelligence sets her on a perilous, heartrending path. Inspired by stunning true accounts, The Ways We Hide is a gripping story of love and loss, the wars we fight—on the battlefields and within ourselves—and the courage found in unexpected places.

New York Times bestselling novelist KYLE MILLS has traveled the world researching ideas and settings for his thrillers. In Oath of Loyalty, he reintroduces CIA operative Mitch Rapp, the character first created by Vince Flynn. When Rapp's allegiances are questioned and his partner threatened, he faces the seemingly impossible task of bringing down a shadowy group of assassins unlike any threat he has faced before.

Uncovering a dark family secret sends one woman through the history of Britain's World War II spy network in The London House, the latest novel by bestselling author KATHERINE REAY. When Caroline Payne learns that her great-aunt Caro may have been a traitor a generation earlier, she pours through family diaries and letters to uncover the truth. Was Caro truly a traitor and Nazi collaborator, or is there a more complex truth buried in the past?
