

READING THE WORLD

TABLET TO TABLET

Throughout the world, the written word has played an immensely important role in shaping the histories of people, countries, and civilizations. Written words have sparked wars, brought peace, and have forced progression, change, and the advancement of technology since the beginning of modern civilization. Early written languages may look vastly different, but they share similar goals.

Reading and writing formats have evolved from clay tablets to electronic tablets, but the goals have remained the same: communication and education. Regardless of one's culture or language, the need for books and literacy are constant: people learn, people record, and people communicate.

This online exhibit brought to you by
Calcasieu Parish Public Library &
Culture Fest Louisiana

Created by Megan Yarbrough & Clare Coleman
October 2015

Travelling exhibit artwork by Erik Jessen

The travelling exhibit that corresponds with this online version is made possible by the following grants:

SWLA Arts & Humanities Council

City of Lake Charles

Calcasieu Parish Police Jury

SWLA Convention & Visitors Bureau

Decentralized Arts Funding

AND GENEROUSLY SUPPORTED BY...

CITGO CHARTER
SCHOOL, USA

McDONALDS

Cumulus

Phillips 66

Kelty Design

Dr. Kashi & Jyothi Yadalam

Dr. Jay & Mrs. Ratna Patel

Psychiatric Center of Lake Charles

Holiday Inn & Suites, Lake Charles

Sasol

Entergy

Lake Charles Memorial Hospital

ALSO SUPPORTED BY...

Coca Cola
Starbucks
Townasley Law Firm
J. Walker & Co.
Tri-Star Wholesale
Christus St. Patrick Hospital

Dr. Kumari Kanesan
Dr. & Mrs. David Buttross III
The Hearing Center
Empire of the Seed
Capital One
Polly & Rick Norman
Stage One Hair School
Dr. & Mrs. James McNally
Dr. & Mrs. Sarwar
Dr. & Mrs. Sheikh
Dr. & Mrs. Tariq Khan
Dr. & Mrs. Qureshi