

Geneva Public Library District (GPLD) makes 3D printers available to GPLD cardholders to make three-dimensional objects using a design that is uploaded from a digital computer file.

GPLD's 3D printers may be used only for lawful purposes. They may not be used to create weapons or materials that are:

- Prohibited by local, state, or federal law;
- Unsafe, harmful, dangerous, or which pose a threat to the well-being of others;
- Obscene or inappropriate for the library environment;
- In violation of the terms of use of the manufacturer of the 3D printer; or
- In violation of another person's property rights. For example, the printers will not be used to reproduce objects or materials that are subject to copyright, patent, or trademark protection.

GPLD reserves all rights to:

- Review and approve all materials before printing;
- Stop printing or resize requests due to time and printer capabilities;
- Limit the number of print requests; and
- Charge users for print requests. See GPLD website for current rates.

Unclaimed items will become the property of the Library. GPLD is not responsible for failed 3D prints and will not be liable for functional failure of or injuries or property damage caused by objects or materials made through the use of 3D printers.

3D printing is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Priority printing will be given to library programs and events. See GPLD website for submission requirements, printing times, and payment information.
